

Project 3 Status:

In its current state the project doesn't quite work. It has occasional stalls due to issue queue or ROB being full that do not match that of the validation runs. In some of the cases the overall performance does not change however the timings of certain instructions are still different. This occurs for any width greater than 1. The code has been commented to describe it's functionality.